County Officer Responsible For Evidence in Hanover Case.

CLAIM VIOLATION OF LAW

Dr. E. W. Stick Asked to Explain
Actions in Case of Luther Thomas, of Hunterstown. Unusual Situation.

Adams county health officers are largely responsible for the action taken Tuesday night by the Hanover Board of Health when the board served a legal notice on Dr. Edward W. Stick, of Hanover, ordering him to appear before that body next Monday night and explain his actions in regard to the case of Luther Thomas, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Thomas, of Hunterstown, who it is alleged contracted scarlet fever, a communicable disease, while living in Hanover, and that his physician, Dr. Stick, failed to report the fact to the Board of Health and consequently the house in which Thomas lived was not quarantined, thereby subjecting many persons to this dreaded disease, according to a Hanover report.

The evidence leading up to the order of the Hanover Board of Health asking Dr. Stick for an explanation of the case to a great extent was furnished by Adams county officials. Several weeks ago James Bell, health officer at Hunterstown, heard a rumor that Luther Thomas was ill in Hanover with scarlet fever and that the house in which he was living—that of Howard Decker, Centennial avenue, Hanover, was not quarantined. Mr. Bell immediately communicated with Dr. C. G. Crist, County Medical Inspector, who in turn reported the case to State Department of Health. An investigation was immediately ordered which on Tuesday night resulted in definite action being taken by the Hanover Health authorities.

Shortly after Mr. Bell heard that Luther Thomas, a well known Adams county boy, who wears two official wound stripes and who has not yet

VITAL SUBJECTS AT INSTITUTE

Economy of Time the Big School
Problem Says Dr.
Gordinier.

RECONSTRUCTED SCHOOL

Education is More Than the Three Fundamental Subjects Now. Teamwork Big School Factor.

With the hall much warmer than it has been at any day session yet, institute opened this morning with the usual "singing class." Dr. C. H. Gordinier, then delivered an address on "The School Problem." The big school problem, he maintained, was economizing of both time and money. "In these times everyone tries to economize with money, and so ought teachers economize with time. The supervisors are efficiency experts in the economy of time. Cannot the teacher also become an efficiency expert? An experiment shows that there is about two minutes lost to each pupil in calling classes. More time is lost in explaining lessons that should have been explained on assigning.

"Some people call the time used by a teacher in going around looking the school's work over lost. But it is not. Her ability is judged greatly by this kind of inspection seeing if the pupils are doing the right kind of work in the proper way."

Miss Maguire occupied the next period with "Form and Content in Language Training."

Dr. Pearson the next lecturer discussing "The Reconstructed School," said:

"In the old school the study of arithmetic, geography, history and other branches were the sole objects and studies. They were given with the special idea of educating the pupil in these subjects alone. The reconstructed school of today is different. Arithmetic, geography, and history is not given with the sole object to learn these alone. They are merely ends. The big object today is to inculcate the student with initiative, imagination, appreciation, aspiration, loyalty, integrity and reverence. Consequently, the ends of the school course, arithmetic, geography, and history are used as the means of attaining these objects. The pupil learns arithmetic today so as to prepare for the bigger things of tomorrow. This is the main thing in the reconstructed school of today."

Tuesday Afternoon
After trying to warm up by singing for a half-hour the session came to order and the first address was made by Miss Maguire, on "What is Worth While in Arithmetic."

She pointed out that arithmetic no longer occupied a primary position in the curriculum and that it would be advisable to cut out the long sums as they were not worth while. She pleaded with the teachers to differentiate between mathematical training and mathematical tricks. She held that most mathematical courses were too difficult for the children.

After more music and the report of the Spelling Contest Committee by L. A. Yohe, Dr. Pearson, discussed "The Motive Element in Teaching."

HUNS AIDED TURKS SAYS DORIZAS

Greek Lecturer Traces History of Forming the Balkan States.

How the Turk was pushed out of Europe in the Balkan Wars and how the Germans aided all the Turkish movements against the Balkan States in order to gain a passage way to the Mediterranean Sea through central Europe was the central thought discussed at Xavier Hall, Tuesday evening by Michael Dorizas, famous Greek lecturer, and well known athlete.

Mr. Dorizas held the undivided attention of his audience for one hour and a half. He traced the history of the forming of the Balkan States, the many fights against Turkey by these states to gain their independence, and their final success, the division of Macedonia between the Balkan States and Bulgaria's treachery and the result of the second Balkan War.

"Russia wanted a seaport that was open all the year so she tried to get through the Dardanelles, Germany tried to get all central Europe under her control so as to establish a Mediterranean seaport and being backed by Austria formed the Triple Alliance. England and France opposing this movement united with Russia and formed the Triple Entente," the speaker said in regard to the start of the European War.

After his interesting lecture Mr. Dorizas invited the audience to question him on anything regarding the Balkans that they didn't understand. Answering a query about the League of Nations he put himself on record as being in favor of it with reservations, but if not accepted with reservations to put it through without.

The speaker was one of the 10 delegates comprising President Wilson's Syrian Commission, to Constantinople, Palestine and Syria to investigate political and economical conditions there. He says the commission received delegates from 12,000 towns. From all he saw of the Turks he expressed regret that the Peace Council did not run the Turk out of Europe.

Lack of co-operation by former service men was given by Mr. Cholmeley-Jones as one of the reasons for the delay which he had said had given rise to innumerable complaints against the bureau.

HEALTH ARMY FOR THIS COUNTY

Health Councils Soon Named in Every Community by Inspector.

FIELD FORCE OF WORKERS

A Plan to Enlist the Co-Operation of the General Public in a Great Forward Movement.

Adams county's health army which will when completed contain nearly one hundred men and women is in the making. Within a short time Dr. Chester G. Crist, County Medical Inspector, will announce the names of those that are to fill the ranks of this force which is to co-operate with the State Department of Health in carrying on its "better health" campaign in this county.

This citizens health army which will eventually include 30,000 men and women of the State is not being designed with any view that it will take over any functions of the Health Department. It will, however, comprise a working field force that will help the State to cope with the actual health needs when they first arrive. Health councils in every community will be one of the steps taken by the local health officer.

This health council is designed as a sort of lay advisory committee working with the county medical inspector. Each member of the health council will be commissioned by the state, and will be sworn into the service. Members of the health councils will, of course, serve without pay. It is expected that these health councils will represent the community view and be one of the active agencies through which county medical directors operate.

The county health council will have working with it a representative in every borough and township. The local representative, in turn, is to have a local committee associated with him. All of the members of this force will have a state affiliation. The whole force will be a part of the state health administration.

The county health officials and their subsidiary organizations represent an experiment in preventive medicine, as well as a move designed to place responsibility for the enforcement of health rules and regulations upon the communities themselves instead of throwing the whole responsibility upon the state authorities. Dr. Martin takes the view that the policy that inflicts penalties for infractions of health rules and regulations, but does not attempt to make those health rules generally accepted and understood, is a mistaken one.

The health commissioner also believes that a state health department cannot be really efficient until the general public understands what the state is trying to do. The state, for

ONLY ONE DEER HUNTER INJURED

Warden Guy Linn Has Remarkable Report to Send to Harrisburg.

That not one man was killed and only one slightly wounded during the fifteen day deer hunting season, although on some days nearly three thousand hunters were in South Mountain at once, is the remarkable part of a report now being made out by Guy Linn, of Cashtown, game warden for Adams county, to be sent to the Game Commission at Harrisburg.

One deer hunter, Ray Anthony, of Bittingsburg, was accidentally shot through the ankle while descending from an automobile at Goodyear station, but he had not yet reached the mountains to commence the actual chase for deer.

The one man slightly injured while actually hunting for deer was Earl Bushy, nephew of Grover Myers, of Gardners, who was struck by a stray bullet on December third.

The scarcity of accidents is attributed by some hunters to the safety drives conducted in various Pennsylvania cities which have instilled the principle of "Safety First" into men who did not forget the slogan even after they reached the mountains.

There were eight men injured in the vicinity of Gettysburg during the first week of the rabbit season opening on November 20 and it was feared by many people that at least one or two fatalities would result several days later when South Mountain became filled with deer hunters.

These predictions were not borne out, however, although an unfounded rumor was once started that a dead body had been found in the mountain.

PRESENTS GRIEVANCES

Local Post Following Progress of Committee in Washington.

Members of the Albert Lentz Post of the American Legion are following with interest the progress of a committee representing the Legion which is now in Washington presenting grievances of former service men against the government's vocational training. Fewer than 25,000 of the 180,000 partially disabled men have been deriving benefits under the present vocational laws, it was said. Statements were submitted showing that the men in training were receiving their maintenance fees irregularly and in some cases not at all. It was charged that red tape is twined all about the organization and that there was general dissatisfaction among the men.

President Franklin D'Olier, of the Legion in a statement warned Congress that no policy of false economy should be pursued now with respect to disabled service men if "serious difficulties" are to be avoided later by the government.

It is the intention of the local post to take up the complaints of their members and other service men and help them in every way possible in the near future.

STRONGEST COLLEGE MAN

Held Wrestling Title And Javelin Record. Lifted Ton Weight. Now

To the several hundred persons assembled in Xavier Hall, Tuesday evening, the stalwart figure on the platform before them was Michael Dorizas, noted Greek lecturer and leading authority on conditions existing in the Balkan States, Greece, Persia, Constantinople and other countries in the eastern hemisphere through which he has traveled extensively.

To the thousands of Pennsylvania sporting fans, however, who perused the Philadelphia papers daily in 1914 and 1915 he is just plain "Mike" Dorizas, greatest of all intercollegiate wrestlers and the strongest human being who ever attended classes at the University of Pennsylvania or any other institution, probably.

There are very few men in the United States who enjoy the distinction of being equally noted both in educational and athletic circles but Mr. Dorizas is one of these rare exceptions.

"Well 'Mike' I see you are still in the same prime condition as you were four years ago," said one of his Gettysburg friends a few minutes after he stepped off the train preparatory to going to Xavier Hall to deliver his lecture.

"It is just natural to me to keep well and have my muscles as hard as ever," replied Dorizas. "I am teaching at the University of Pennsylvania and go to the gymnasium regularly to exercise. Besides I always lead a

Washington, December 17—Every newspaper in the country was called today by the House Post Office Committee to reduce its consumption of news print paper by 10 per cent for a period of six months in an effort to relieve the present serious shortage which the committee has been told threatens the destruction of a number of small papers.

Voluntary cooperation of publishers would obviate the necessity for repressive governmental action, said the committee's statement. Members of the committee said that if the publishers carried out the voluntary conservation plan further action on the Anthony bill to limit the size of newspapers and periodicals using the second class mail privileges would be postponed for the present at least.

New York, December 17—The demand for stock broadened during the morning embracing active issues in the tobaccos, textile and chemical groups. Dealings among motors, oils, steel and equipment ranged from 2 to 10 points higher. The same factors which stimulated yesterday's buying were again in evidence notably the further strength of foreign exchange and the scarcity of stock. Industrial news was favorable including the higher prices quoted for oil and foreign buying of railroads equipment.

It is expected that these health councils will represent the community view and be one of the active agencies through which county medical directors operate.

The county health council will have working with it a representative in every borough and township. The local representative, in turn, is to have a local committee associated with him. All of the members of this force will have a state affiliation. The whole force will be a part of the state health administration.

The county health officials and their subsidiary organizations represent an experiment in preventive medicine, as well as a move designed to place responsibility for the enforcement of health rules and regulations upon the communities themselves instead of throwing the whole responsibility upon the state authorities. Dr. Martin takes the view that the policy that inflicts penalties for infractions of health rules and regulations, but does not attempt to make those health rules generally accepted and understood, is a mistaken one.

The health commissioner also believes that a state health department cannot be really efficient until the general public understands what the state is trying to do. The state, for

STOPS MONEY ORDER ISSUE

Canada Takes Action Until Conditions Become Stable.

(By Associated Press)

Washington, December 17—Because of the extreme fluctuation in the prevailing quotations for New York exchange, Canada has suspended temporarily the issue in that country of money orders on the United States the Post Office Department announced today. The department was advised that the suspension was "for a short period until conditions become more stable."

ONLY ONE DEER
HUNTER INJURED

Warden Guy Linn Has Remarkable Report to Send to Harrisburg.

That not one man was killed and only one slightly wounded during the fifteen day deer hunting season, although on some days nearly three thousand hunters were in South Mountain at once, is the remarkable part of a report now being made out by Guy Linn, of Cashtown, game warden for Adams county, to be sent to the Game Commission at Harrisburg.

One deer hunter, Ray Anthony, of Bittingers, was accidentally shot through the ankle while descending from an automobile at Goodyear station, but he had not yet reached the mountains to commence the actual chase for deer.

The one man slightly injured while actually hunting for deer was Earl Bushey, nephew of Grover Myers, of Gardners, who was struck by a stray bullet on December third.

The scarcity of accidents is attributed by some hunters to the safety drives conducted in various Pennsylvania cities which have instilled the principle of "Safety First" into men who did not forget the slogan even after they reached the mountains.

There were eight men injured in the vicinity of Gettysburg during the first week of the rabbit season opening on November 20 and it was feared by many people that at least one or two fatalities would result several days later when South Mountain became filled with deer hunters.

These predictions were not borne out, however, although an unfounded rumor was once started that a dead body had been found in the mountain.

PRESENTS GRIEVANCES

Local Post Following Progress of Committee in Washington.

Members of the Albert Lentz Post of the American Legion are following with interest the progress of a committee representing the Legion which is now in Washington presenting grievances of former service men against the government's vocational training. Fewer than 25,000 of the 180,000 partially disabled men have been deriving benefits under the present vocational laws, it was said. Statements were submitted showing that the men in training were receiving their maintenance fees irregularly and in some cases not at all. It was charged that red tape is twined all about the organization and that there was general dissatisfaction among the men.

President Franklin D'Olier, of the Legion in a statement warned Congress that no policy of false economy should be pursued now with respect to disabled service men if "serious difficulties" are to be avoided later by the government.

It is the intention of the local post to take up the complaints of their members and other service men and help them in every way possible in the near future.

LEGION COMMITTEES

Percy Eichelberger, New Post Commander, Makes Announcement.

Percy Eichelberger, newly elected commander of the Albert Lentz post of the American Legion, has chosen the following men to serve on committees for one year or until such time as he deems a change necessary. The committees are:

Dance committee, John E. Crim, chairman, Carl Menchey, and Russell Stouffer; social committee, Clyde Berger, chairman, Harold Mumper, and William Weaver; booster committee, John W. Hartman, chairman, C. G. Webner, Jacob Stanton, Horace Smiley and Allen Dubbs; motion picture committee, Harry Troxell, chairman, Lawrence Sheads and Earl Stallsmith.

NOTED LECTURER GREAT ATHLETE

Feats of Mike Dorizas in 1915 Thrilled Sporting Fans.

STRONGEST COLLEGE MAN

Held Wrestling Title and Javelin Record. Lifted Ton Weight. Now Attending to More Serious Matters.

To the several hundred persons assembled in Xavier Hall, Tuesday evening, the stalwart figure on the platform before them was Michael Dorizas, noted Greek lecturer and leading authority on conditions existing in the Balkan States, Greece, Persia, Constantinople and other countries in the eastern hemisphere through which he has traveled extensively.

To the thousands of Pennsylvania sporting fans, however, who perused the Philadelphia papers daily in 1914 and 1915 he is just plain "Mike" Dorizas, greatest of all intercollegiate wrestlers and the strongest human being who ever attended classes at the University of Pennsylvania or any other institution, probably.

There are very few men in the United States who enjoy the distinction of being equally noted both in educational and athletic circles but Mr. Dorizas is one of these rare exceptions.

"Well 'Mike' I see you are still in the same prime condition as you were four years ago," said one of his Gettysburg friends a few minutes after he stepped off the train preparatory to going to Xavier Hall to deliver his lecture.

"It is just natural to me to keep well and have my muscles as hard as ever," replied Dorizas. "I am teaching at the University of Pennsylvania and go to the gymnasium regularly to exercise. Besides I always lead a Meteorologist Says His Prophecy Was Greatly Exaggerated.

San Francisco, Dec. 17—Professor Albert Porta, a San Francisco meteorologist, from whose deduction on a planet configuration the prophecy of the world coming to an end today was said to have sprung reported today the prognostication of the world's demise was greatly exaggerated. The rotation of the sun preventing a pull of the phalanx on any one place of the sun's surface for any considerable length of time would prevent the formation of any sun spot Professor Porta said. It was this sun spot that he feared.

CHIMNEY MONOPOLIZERS

Accused of Violating Sherman Anti-Trust Act.

House Post Office Committee Requests Ten Per Cent Cut.

MUST RELIEVE SHORTAGE

Repressive Governmental Action Will be Necessary if Publishers Do Not Co-Operate Voluntarily.

(By Associated Press)

Washington, December 17—Every newspaper in the country was called today by the House Post Office Committee to reduce its consumption of news print paper by 10 per cent for a period of six months in an effort to relieve the present serious shortage which the committee has been told threatens the destruction of a number of small papers.

Voluntary cooperation of publishers would obviate the necessity for repressive governmental action, said the committee's statement. Members of the committee said that if the publishers carried out the voluntary conservation plan further action on the Anthony bill to limit the size of newspapers and periodicals using the second class mail privileges would be postponed for the present at least.

STOCK REPORT

Market Broadens on Active Issues. Foreign Exchange Strong.

(By Associated Press)

New York, December 17—The demand for stock broadened during the morning embracing active issues in the tobaccos, textile and chemical groups. Dealings among motors, oils, steel and equipment ranged from 2 to 10 points higher. The same factors which stimulated yesterday's buying were again in evidence notably the further strength of foreign exchange and the scarcity of stock. Industrial news was favorable including the higher prices quoted for oil and foreign buying of railroads equipment.

WALLACE CAUGHT BY CLEVER RUSE

Murderer Trained For Weeks by Detectives. Letter His Undoing.

Details in regard to the killing of Clarence Wallace, wanted for the murder of Leo Creager in Thurmont, in October, who died in California Saturday after a battle with three detectives who had lured him to the post office for a fake letter, reveal the untiring search that has been conducted by the police officials throughout the United States.

The beginning of the unearthing of the information which led to the arrest of Wallace came on October 20, when Sheriff C. H. Klipp, of Frederick, went to Baltimore and took with him a gold watch found in the pocket of Irvin Martz, following the escape of Wallace. Wallace fled to the mountains after the murder, forded a stream and made his way to Baltimore.

His clothing torn, his face scratched by briars, he arrived in Baltimore on October 20 at 2 a. m. and he went to a house at 148 North Eighth street, Highlandtown. At the house lived Mrs. Florence Graft, friend of Irvin Martz.

"Well, it's all up now and the end of the world for me," Wallace told the woman. He told her about the Thurmont shooting, the capture of Martz, and after changing his clothing he left the house, telling her that she would hear from him later. Twelve hours later detectives Kahler, Quirk and Roche called at the house. They saw that Mrs. Graft knew something about Martz, who had been held at Frederick under the name of Williams.

They were bluntly told that Wallace, the murderer, had left the house an hour after sunrise.

The Bertillon Bureau showed Wallace's picture and then the real secret work began.

The Commissioners of Frederick county met and offered a reward of $1,000 for the arrest of Wallace, dead or alive. Luck fell to Detective Kahler to be the first man to receive information indicating that Wallace was in California, through a letter from Ventura, California, on November 10. That letter was written by Wallace; he was masquerading in Ventura under the name of H. P. Daley. The letter read:

"See Florence and tell her to let me know how things are going. Write me November 13, general delivery, Santa Barbara, under the name of H. P. Daley."

From November 12 until Wallace was shot down Saturday in the post office at Santa Barbara he was under watch day and night. Police Headquarters here expected the capture three weeks ago, and thinking that something had happened, another ruse was resorted to in Santa Barbara. A letter was sent to Wallace under the name of Daley, and when he did not call for it it was advertised a number of times in the unclaimed letter list. This, it is believed, brought the man to Santa Barbara from Ventura to claim the letter.

TO WAR AGAINST THE HIGH PRICES

Palmer Outlines Plan For Ambitious Nation-Wide Campaign.

ADVOCATES THE BOYCOTT

Despite All Objections Attorney General Says He Will Continue the Fight.

Chicago, December 17.—Attorney General Palmer Tuesday pledged the full power of the Department of Justice in prosecution of hoarders and profiteers in a talk in which he outlined to 400 city officials, heads of civic organizations and club women of Illinois the program of his department in combatting the high cost of living.

A plea for the assistance of every man and woman in the country in a national fight against high prices was made by Mr. Palmer at the meeting, which was called by Gov. Frank O. Lowden.

Explaining the plan of action whereby fair price committees in every community become agents of a federal government in enforcing its decree, Mr. Palmer laid down a program of five conservations which, if carried out, would do much to deal a death blow to the high cost of living. They are:

1. Organization of fair price committees in every city and county, backed by mayors and prosecuting attorneys, with the committees supporting United States district attorneys.
2. Organization of women to refuse to buy anything but actual necessities until prices come down.
3. Holding of "conservation" and economy meetings in every community under the auspices of civic bodies.
4. Influence of mayors and prosecutors to be brought to bear on the warring elements to prevent factional disturbances in industry and particularly to bring about an industrial peace of at least six months' duration.
5. Remobilization of the Four-minute Men to deliver "work and save" addresses in theaters each night.

To Push The Fight

"Despite all objections and obstacles, I propose to go through with this campaign," Mr. Palmer declared. "If industrial conditions do not get too bad during the next few months, we can bring real relief."

The wage-earners were in the class of the rich, in that their income, as a rule, had kept pace with the rapidly mounting cost of living, Mr. Palmer added. The salaried worker was the man who had felt the full brunt of higher costs because he had been the last to obtain relief.

The chief causes of the high cost of living, he pointed out, were decreased production, incident to the war, inflated currency, due to government borrowings, and heavy taxes, which, he charged, were passed on by business men to the ultimate consumer.

"In every line of trade there are selfish and greedy men who have taken advantage of after-war conditions to add to their prices and profits," Mr. Palmer said. "Such men are the profiteers and I purpose to devote all the power at my command to root them out and expose them to public scorn, and if necessary, in public prisons. The profiteer is worse than unpatriotic, he is criminal. I ask State's Attorneys of Illinois to go after those devils with all the force you command."

fully recovered from the hardships he suffered while with the American Expeditionary Forces in France, was suffering from scarlet fever, his mother, Mrs. Kate Thomas, returned to Hunterstown from Hanover where she had been attending her son. Realizing his duty in the case Health Officer Bell quarantined the Thomas house in Hunterstown and refused to permit Mrs. Thomas to return. At this point in the proceedings the York county Board of Health became active and during the past two weeks has been busy securing evidence to show that Dr. Stick failed to perform his duty by not reporting the case which, it is understood, the Health Board knows to have been scarlet fever. Dr. Stick, it is said, diagnosed the case as being Shingles Disease.

Further developments in the case may be expected for if Dr. Stick fails to appear before the Hanover Board of Health Monday night and satisfactorily explain his actions in the case legal prosecution will be forthcoming, it is said.

The Hanover case is the first one in this section of the State in which legal action has been taken to make a physician explain why he did not report a case that is alleged to be communicable and which the state law makes extremely clear.

THE COAL STRIKE COST MILLIONS

Figures Show Miners Were the Greatest Losers. Railroads Suffered.

Columbus, O., December 17.—Loss to the United States on account of the recent coal strike amounted to approximately $126,000,000, while that to Ohio was about $27,000,000, according to W. D. McKinney, secretary of the Southern Ohio Coal Exchange. Additional loss to railroads from curtailed service and to industries forced to shut down on account of the fuel situation, could not be estimated, and no allowance therefore is made in the estimate. Mr. McKinney stated.

The miners were the greatest losers in the strike, Mr. McKinney's figures showed. Sixty million dollars was his estimate of their losses in wages in the country. The loss to the railroads he placed at $40,000,000, while the operators' figure he set at $26,000,000.

In Ohio the distribution of the loss, according to Mr. McKinney's estimate, was: Operators, $6,500,000; miners, $11,000,000; railroads, $10,000,000. The last estimate includes revenue on coal only and not the loss on restricted service.

At the beginning of the strike the production was already 40,000,000 tons short of normal, Mr. McKinney stated. This had already assured the miners of the maximum tonnage that could be produced and handled by the railroads, he said. On account of the strike, he added, the Ohio miners alone lost another 7,500,000 tons. The figure for the entire country he placed at 1,000,000 tons daily.

Cost of maintaining the average mine in working conditions without producing coal, including upkeep, care of animals and mine organization, he placed at 40 cents per ton, to which must be added 25 cents per ton for overhead. Profit per ton ranged from 20 to 25 cents, he said.

Production throughout Ohio, he said, was rapidly approaching normal. As soon as the miners were put in normal running order, the output would be at the maximum, he concluded.

ELLIS ISLAND NOW UNDER FIRE

Open Door to Oppressed Now Subject of Congressional Inquiry.

New York, December 17.—Ellis Island, known for years as "the open door to the oppressed of every land" and which has become the subject of a Congressional inquiry by reason of its new character as a place of detention for hundreds of anarchists and other "dangerous radicals," is really three small islands in New York harbor about one mile southwest of Manhattan. Their total area is approximately 20 acres.

Upon these islands, known as No's 1, 2 and 3 are nineteen large and small buildings of brick and stone, many of them handsome structures of four and five stories, used as the United States Immigration Station for this port and through which, from July 1 to December 1 last, nearly 80,000 aliens entered the Land of Opportunity and Freedom. Hundreds of "undesirables," it should be stated, were at the same time sent back to the lands of their birth. The immigration service here employs 372 workers including inspectors who Board incoming ships.

It seems an incongruity that Ellis Island which, in summer, gives the foreigner his first glimpse of the wonders of the New World's metropolis, a pleasing view of beautiful lawns and flowers, well-kept buildings and a fine harbor with the marvelous skyline of New York in the distance, should have metamorphosed during the war into a big detention place for political criminals and the foes of organized government.

The fact is, Ellis Island, according to the authorities, was not intended as a prison for such offenders. Federal judges, in the past two years, acting under the authority vested in them, liberated 557 so-called "dangerous aliens" either upon their own recognition or in the custody of their lawyers, according to Representative Isaac Siegel, a member of the House Immigration Committee which is investigating the Red peril. During the same period 697 anarchists, bolsheviks and other radicals have been sent from various parts of the United States to New York. Of this number 85 are now in custody of Acting Immigration Commissioner Byron G. Uhl, the successor to Frederick C. Howe, who until recently, and since 1913 had served as Commissioner.

Siamese Object to Walking

The Siamese, above all nations in the world, hate to walk. No such mode of progression is tolerated by a Siamese if he or she can by any means slide. A Venetian gondolier will walk sometimes, even a Hollander will ride on his rough cart, but a Bangkok man—not if he can help it. His family boat for him.

MINERS WILL GET BIG INCREASE

Committee Says Wages Will Double the 14 Per Cent. Thought Justifiable.

WILSON'S PROPOSAL UP

Last Fuel Restrictions Withdrawn by Railroad Administration. Many Miners Idle All the Time.

Washington, December 17.—The Senate coal investigating committee, resuming Tuesday its inquiry into the administration strike settlement agreement, was told by Tracy W. Guthrie, president of the Hillman Coal and Coke Company, that one clause in the proposition advanced by President Wilson and accepted by the miners would "bring about an increase in the miners' wages at least doubling the 14 per cent which Dr. Harry A. Garfield, resigned fuel administrator, thought justified."

While the Senate committee was pursuing its inquiry the Railroad Administration withdrew the last semblances of the restrictions on fuel resulting from the strike, and began delivering coal to original consignees instead of distributing it to points of greatest need. It rescinded the embargo on the movement of fuel oil out of the West and the orders reducing the amount of coal permitted to go to coking ovens.

At the White House Tuesday it was said that President Wilson would not appoint the commission provided in the strike settlement proposal until Attorney General Palmer returns from the West late this week.

Wages And Prices

The senatorial inquiry was reopened with the calling of R. V. Norris, engineer for the Fuel Administration, who was conducted by Senator Frelinghuysen, Republican, New Jersey, chairman of the committee, and Senator Townsend, Republican, Michigan, through a maze of statistics bearing on labor, costs and prices of necessities.

"Secretary of Labor Wilson proposed that the miners be given an increase of 31.67 per cent," Mr. Norris explained, "because he bases his calculations on the pay given pick miners. In 1917, when the coal mine wages were readjusted, the pick miners were getting the greatest amount, and the scales were balanced up by giving them a lesser increase than other classes of labor around the mines. This was necessary in order to induce men to do the other work."

"Dr. Garfield decided that a particular wage group ought not to serve now as a basis for calculation, and took the average wage of all workers. After arriving at that, he found that an addition of 14 per cent to their earnings would compensate them for the cost of living since the last adjustments were made."

Board Too Small, He Says

Chairman Frelinghuysen asked if the witness approved of the creation of a commission composed of one miner, one mine operator and one representative of the public, with power to fix wages and prices.

"That would depend on the makeup of the individuals," Norris returned, "but I think at least a larger number ought to be named. It gives two interests a chance to combine against the third."

Mr. Guthrie was called to present actual facts from pay rolls upon wages.

"About 20 per cent of miners are idle all the time, according to our experience with 23 mines," he told the committee. "That is, we have to have 120 names on the payroll in order to get 100 men on the job as a constant factor. Miners like to celebrate all American holidays and a lot of foreign ones. They have 'Mitchell Day' on April 1, in honor of the late John Mitchell. They have 'Rabbit Day' on November 10, when everybody adjourns to shoot a rabbit."

DEATH ACCIDENTAL

The death of Private Marvin E. Wiand, the Sunbury soldier who was shot and killed by Acting Corporal Albert Strauba at the United States hospital in Carlisle on Saturday shortly before midnight, has been found to have been accidental according to a statement from Colonel Frank R. Keefe, hospital commandant, who Tuesday gave the following information.

"On Saturday night, at about 11:30 o'clock, the Acting Corporal of the Guard, Albert Strauba, was required, in the exercise of his duty, to awaken men for the next guard relief who were to go on post at 12 o'clock. He took his revolver out of the holster and with it rapped one of the men on the soles of his feet. As this did not awaken him he walked to the head of his bed, revolver in hand and as he reached the head the revolver discharged, the bullet passing through Wiand's head as he lay in his bunk, the load entering his ear. It is believed he died almost instantly."

WOMEN JURORS IN MURDER TRIAL

Defense of Harry New, Accused of Killing Sweetheart, is Insanity.

Los Angeles, Cal., December 17.—Eleven jurors, two of them women, had been accepted tentatively when adjournment was taken late Tuesday in the trial in the Superior Court of Harry New, alleged son of Senator Harry S. New, of Indiana, charged with the murder of Miss Freda Lesser, his sweetheart.

LeCompte Davis, leading counsel for New, made it clear the defense would be insanity. Thomas Lee Woolwine, district attorney, who, with Deputy Asa Keyes, is prosecuting the case, announced that the state would not attempt to prove "New is an intellectual giant", but would maintain he was intelligent enough to be held responsible for his acts. Many of his questions seemingly were framed with the idea of ascertaining whether the veniremen believed a man of what he termed "dull" mentality should be punished if he committed a crime.

The name of Senator New was mentioned early in the proceedings. Mr. Woolwine asked veniremen if they were acquainted with Senator New or any of his relatives and said he thought it possible testimony might be introduced regarding alleged circumstances of New's birth and alleged relations of New's mother, Mrs. Lillie M. Berger, with Senator New.

The two women temporarily accepted as jurors, Mrs. Harriet Wright, of Sierra Madre, and Mrs. S. A. Bradfield, of Long Branch, nearby cities, were the only ones out of eight women questioned who were not excused because of conscientious scruples against infliction of the death penalty.

Mr. Davis made it plain that he expected to make a hard fight against introduction of confessions alleged to have been made by New on the ground that the state must first establish the fact that a murder was committed. He asked prospective jurors questions as to the stand they might take should it appear the dead girl had killed herself.

INSTITUTE PICK-UPS

That the lectures were very interesting was evidenced by the fact that in spite of the cold all except a few teachers remained.

Many college students attend the day sessions, especially in the afternoon.

There was a great increase in the number of town people at institute on Tuesday.

The teachers will know a lot more about singing when the sessions are over, as Dr. Taylor has a "half hour class" every session.

Dr. Pearson's popularity is well established with the teachers and he is given great applause when he appears on the platform.

Everyone looks forward to his talks. Everyone liked "Mike" Dorizas' lecture Tuesday evening. It was both instructive and entertaining.

Big crowds are expected for Wednesday and Thursday nights when the Hawaiians and the Marlborough Players make their appearances.

"Mike" Dorizas has seen quite a bit of the world. He was raised in Constantinople, has traveled all over Europe. He can talk English, Greek, French, Turkish and knows enough about the Russian language to "get by."

LARGEST LETTING

Department Receives Bids on 147 Miles of State Highway.

Bids for the construction of more than 147 miles of roads in Pennsylvania were received Tuesday by the State Highway Department. Fifty one projects were listed in twenty eight counties. This is the largest letting in the road building history of the State. Forty one low bids were received totaling $6,500,000. The previous high mileage record for bids during the Sprout administration was 104 miles.

The bids opened Tuesday were on projects that will make up the early spring operations of the Department and a number of new contractors. No bids were received on nine projects and one construction job was withdrawn. There were no projects bid on in this section of the State. None of the contracting firms who have construction work underway in Adams county were low bidders, according to the list of bidders published by the Highway Department.

FRONT SEAT FOR WORLD END

Farmer Bought Ticket So He Could Get Good View of Last Day

Cleveland, December 17.—Charles Johnson, aged sixty five, a farmer living at West Salem, was in Cleveland today with a reserve seat ticket so as to be in the front row when the world came to an end. After going to a house "where the beginning of the end" was to be made and finding that no one there had even heard the end was at hand Johnson complained to the police in the following words:

"Two men came to me last Saturday and sold me a reserve seat for $15. They told me all the members of my religious belief were to wait for the end in Cleveland."

example, is spending more than $2,000,000 a year in fighting tuberculosis. There are 10,000 deaths from that disease in this state every year, and a great many of those who die are men and women the state agents never heard about until too late to effect a cure.

At the present time the state health department is mostly concerned with those who disobey the laws of health. This disobedience is not, as a rule, the result of any defiance of state authority, but rather the result of ignorance or of indifference to the laws of individual well being. Dr. Martin holds that health rules should not be simply things that the state enforces but rules that the great public lives up to quite as a matter of course.

No attempt has ever been made in this country to affiliate quite so large a portion of the public with a state health department as Dr. Martin proposes to enlist in the service.

WOMEN BESEECH HEALER FOR CURES

Crowds at Harrisburg Church
Double in Size. Healed by Prayer.

"We want this mission to go on, and it must go on. It is a revival of the ministry of healing in the church. Let us find the church of Christ a living church. But it can't be a living church if it is not a healing church." James Moore Hickson, faith healer, said Tuesday morning when he opened his second and last healing mission service in St. Stephen's Protestant Episcopal church, Harrisburg.

The crowds were more than double those of Monday, when the mission was conducted for more than five hours. Many hundreds of persons, victims of scores of diseases and afflictions, came or were brought again Tuesday, and the increase in the number of children brought for the "healing touch and the word of prayer," was an impressive sight.

More than 150 children, from babies in mothers' arms to boys and girls of school age, were brought to Mr. Hickson, who prayed for them first. Owing to the large crowds, it was thought at noon that the healer would be unable to see all the sick persons in the large church, and the clergymen assisting him began to bring forward only those suffering from severe pain and the most serious cases.

In opening his mission Tuesday Mr. Hickson made an earnest appeal to those in the church to continue the prayer for the healing touch of Christ in the bodies and souls of all unfortunates.

In part he said: "I am sorry that there is so short a mission here. I am most grateful to you all for your sympathy and prayer. You made the mission what it is. We, who were working here yesterday, could feel the great wall of prayer back of us. None felt tired for the power of the Holy Spirit was working with us. The Lord is using every one of you. All have a place in the mission."

TO WAR AGAINST THE HIGH PRICES

Palmer Outlines Plan For Ambitious Nation-Wide Campaign.

ADVOCATES THE BOYCOTT

Despite All Objections Attorney General Says He Will Continue the Fight.

Chicago, December 17.—Attorney General Palmer Tuesday pledged the full power of the Department of Justice in prosecution of hoarders and profiteers in a talk in which he outlined to 400 city officials, heads of civic organizations and club women of Illinois the program of his department in combating the high cost of living.

A plea for the assistance of every man and woman in the country in a national fight against high prices was made by Mr. Palmer at the meeting, which was called by Gov. Frank O. Lowden.

Explaining the plan of action whereby fair price committees in every community become agents of a federal government in enforcing its decrees, Mr. Palmer laid down a program of five conservations which, if carried out, would do much to deal a death blow to the high cost of living. They are:

1. Organization of fair price committees in every city and county, backed by mayors and prosecuting attorneys, with the committees supporting United States district attorneys.

2. Organization of women to refuse to buy anything but actual necessities until prices come down.

3. Holding of "conservation" and economy meetings in every community under the auspices of civic bodies.

4. Influence of mayors and prosecutors to be brought to bear on the warring elements to prevent factional disturbances in industry and particularly to bring about an industrial peace of at least six months' duration.

5. Remobilization of the Four-minute Men to deliver "work and save" addresses in theaters each night.

To Push The Fight

"Despite all objections and obstacles, I propose to go through with this campaign," Mr. Palmer declared. "If industrial conditions do not get too bad during the next few months, we can bring real relief."

The wage-earners were in the class of the rich, in that their income, as a rule, had kept pace with the rapidly mounting cost of living, Mr. Palmer added. The salaried worker was the man who had felt the full brunt of higher costs because he had been the last to obtain relief.

The chief causes of the high cost of living, he pointed out, were decreased production, incident to the war, inflated currency, due to government borrowings, and heavy taxes, which, he charged, were passed on by business men to the ultimate consumer.

"In every line of trade there are selfish and greedy men who have taken advantage of after-war conditions to add to their prices and profits," Mr. Palmer said. "Such men are the profiteers and I purpose to devote all the power at my command to root them out and expose them to public scorn, and if necessary, in public prisons. The profiteer is worse than unpatriotic, he is criminal. I ask State's Attorneys of Illinois to go after those devils with all the force you command."

fully recovered from the hardships he suffered while with the American Expeditionary Forces in France, was suffering from scarlet fever, his mother, Mrs. Kate Thomas, returned to Hunterstown from Hanover where she had been attending her son. Realizing his duty in the case Health Officer Bell quarantined the Thomas house in Hunterstown and refused to permit Mrs. Thomas to return. At this point in the proceedings the York county Board of Health became active and during the past two weeks has been busy securing evidence to show that Dr. Stuck failed to perform his duty by not reporting the case which, it is understood, the Health Board knows to have been scarlet fever. Dr. Stuck, it is said, diagnosed the case as being Shingles disease.

Further developments in the case may be expected for if Dr. Stuck fails to appear before the Hanover Board of Health Monday night and satisfactorily explain his actions in the case legal prosecution will be forthcoming, it is said.

The Hanover case is the first one in this section of the State in which legal action has been taken to make a physician explain why he did not report a case that is alleged to be communicable and which the state law makes extremely clear.

THE COAL STRIKE COST MILLIONS

Figures Show Miners Were the Greatest Losers. Railroads Suffered.

Columbus, O., December 17.—Loss to the United States on account of the recent coal strike amounted to approximately $126,000,000, while that to Ohio was about $27,000,000, according to W. D. McKinney, secretary of the Southern Ohio Coal Exchange. Additional loss to railroads from curtailed service and to industries forced to shut down on account of the fuel situation, could not be estimated, and no allowance therefore is made in the estimate, Mr. McKinney stated.

The miners were the greatest losers in the strike, Mr. McKinney's figures showed. Sixty million dollars was his estimate of their losses in wages in the country. The loss to the railroads he placed at $40,000,000, while the operators' figure he set at $26,000,000.

In Ohio the distribution of the loss, according to Mr. McKinney's estimate, was: Operators, $6,500,000; miners, $11,000,000; railroads, $10,000,000. The last estimate includes revenue on coal only and not the loss on restricted service.

At the beginning of the strike the production was already 40,000,000 tons short of normal, Mr. McKinney stated. This had already assured the miners of the maximum tonnage that could be produced and handled by the railroads, he said. On account of the strike, he added, the Ohio mines alone lost another 7,500,000 tons. The figure for the entire country he placed at 1,000,000 tons daily.

Cost of maintaining the average mine in working conditions without producing coal, including upkeep, care of animals and mine organization, he placed at 40 cents per ton, to which must be added 25 cents per ton for overhead. Profit per ton ranged from 20 to 25 cents, he said.

Production throughout Ohio, he said, was rapidly approaching normal. As soon as the miners were put in normal running order, the output would be at the maximum, he concluded.

ELLIS ISLAND NOW UNDER FIRE

Open Door to Oppressed Now Subject of Congressional Inquiry.

New York, December 17.—Ellis Island, known for years as "the open door to the oppressed of every land" and which has become the subject of a Congressional inquiry by reason of its new character as a place of detention for hundreds of anarchists and other "dangerous radicals," is really three small islands in New York harbor about one mile southwest of Manhattan. Their total area is approximately 20 acres.

Upon these islands, known as No's 1, 2 and 3 are nineteen large and small buildings of brick and stone, many of them handsome structures of four and five stories, used as the United States Immigration Station for this port and through which, from July 1 to December 1 last, nearly 80,000 aliens entered the Land of Opportunity and Freedom. Hundreds of "undesirables," it should be stated, were at the same time sent back to the lands of their birth. The immigration service here employs 372 workers including inspectors who Board incoming ships.

It seems an incongruity that Ellis Island which, in summer, gives the foreigner his first glimpse of the wonders of the New World's metropolis, a pleasing view of beautiful lawns and flowers, well-kept buildings and a fine harbor with the marvelous skyline of New York in the distance, should have metamorphosed during the war into a big detention place for political criminals and the foes of organized government.

The fact is, Ellis Island, according to the authorities, was not intended as a prison for such offenders. Federal judges, in the past two years, acting under the authority vested in them, liberated 557 so-called "dangerous aliens" other upon their own recognition or in the custody of their lawyers, according to Representative Isaac Siegel, a member of the House Immigration Committee which is investigating the Red peril. During the same period 697 anarchists, bolsheviks and other radicals have been sent from various parts of the United States to New York. Of this number 85 are now in custody of the Acting Immigration Commissioner Byron G. Uhl, the successor to Frederick C. Howe, who until recently, and since 1913 had served as Commissioner.

MINERS WILL GET BIG INCREASE

Committee Says Wages Will Double the 14 Per Cent. Thought Justifiable.

WILSON'S PROPOSAL UP

Last Fuel Restrictions Withdrawn by Railroad Administration. Many Miners Idle All the Time.

Washington, December 17.—The Senate coal investigating committee, resuming Tuesday its inquiry into the administration strike settlement agreement, was told by Tracy W. Guthrie, president of the Hillman Coal and Coke Company, that one clause in the proposition advanced by President Wilson and accepted by the miners would "bring about an increase in the miners' wages at least doubling the 14 per cent which Dr. Harry A. Garfield, resigned fuel administrator, thought justified."

While the Senate committee was pursuing its inquiry the Railroad Administration withdrew the last semblance of the restrictions on fuel resulting from the strike, and began delivering coal to original consignees instead of distributing it to points of greatest need. It rescinded the embargo on the movement of fuel out of the West and the orders reducing the amount of coal permitted to go to coking ovens.

At the White House Tuesday it was said that President Wilson would not appoint the commission provided in the strike settlement proposal until Attorney General Palmer returns from the West late this week.

Wages And Prices

The senatorial inquiry was reopened with the calling of R. V. Norris, engineer for the Fuel Administration, who was conducted by Senator Frelinghuysen, Republican, New Jersey, chairman of the committee, and Senator Townsend, Republican, Michigan, through a maze of statistics bearing on labor, costs and prices of necessities.

"Secretary of Labor Wilson proposed that the miners be given an increase of 31.67 per cent," Mr. Norris explained, "because he bases his calculations on the pay given pick miners. In 1917, when the coal mine wages were readjusted, the pick miners were getting the greatest amount, and the scales were balanced up by giving them a lesser increase than other classes of labor around the mines. This was necessary in order to induce men to do the other work." "Dr. Garfield decided that a particular wage group ought not to serve now as a basis for calculation, and took the average wage of all workers. After arriving at that, he found that an addition of 14 per cent to their earnings would compensate them for the cost of living since the last adjustments were made."

Board Too Small, He Says

Chairman Frelinghuysen asked if the witness approved of the creation of a commission composed of one miner, one mine operator and one representative of the public, with power to fix wages and prices.

"That would depend on the makeup of the individuals," Norris returned, "but I think at least a larger number ought to be named. It gives two interests a chance to combine against the third."

Mr. Guthrie was called to present actual facts from pay rolls upon wages.

"About 20 per cent of miners are idle all the time, according to our experience with 23 mines," he told the committee. "That is, we have to have 120 names on the payroll in order to get 100 men on the job as a constant factor. Miners like to celebrate all American holidays and a lot of foreign ones. They have 'Mitchell Day' on April 1, in honor of the late John Mitchell. They have 'Rabbit Day' on November 10, when everybody adjourns to shoot a rabbit."

DEATH ACCIDENTAL

The death of Private Marvin E. Wiand, the Sunbury soldier who was shot and killed by Acting Corporal Albert Strauba at the United States hospital in Carlisle on Saturday shortly before midnight, has been found to have been accidental according to a statement from Colonel Frank R. Keefe, hospital commandant, who Tuesday gave the following information.

"On Saturday night, at about 11:30 o'clock, the Acting Corporal of the Guard, Albert Strauba, was required, in the exercise of his duty, to awaken men for the next guard relief who were to go on post at 12 o'clock. He took his revolver out of the holster and with it rapped one of the men on the soles of his feet. As this did not awaken him he walked to the head of his bed, revolver in hand and as he reached the head the revolver discharged, the bullet passing through Wiand's head as he lay in his bunk, the load entering his ear. It is believed he died almost instantly."

WOMEN JURORS IN MURDER TRIAL

Defense of Harry New, Accused of Killing Sweetheart, is Insanity.

Los Angeles, Cal., December 17.—Eleven jurors, two of them women, had been accepted tentatively when adjournment was taken late Tuesday in the trial in the Superior Court of Harry New, alleged son of Senator Harry S. New, of Indiana, charged with the murder of Miss Freda Lesser, his sweetheart.

LeCompte Davis, leading counsel for New, made it clear the defense would be insanity. Thomas Lee Woolwine, district attorney, who, with Deputy Asa Keyes, is prosecuting the case, announced that the state would not attempt to prove "New is an intellectual giant," but would maintain he was intelligent enough to be held responsible for his acts. Many of his questions seemingly were framed with the idea of ascertaining whether the veniremen believed a man of what he termed "dull" mentality should be punished if he committed a crime.

The name of Senator New was mentioned early in the proceedings. Mr. Woolwine asked veniremen if they were acquainted with Senator New or any of his relatives and said he thought it possible testimony might be introduced regarding alleged circumstances of New's birth and alleged relations of New's mother, Mrs. Lillie M. Berger, with Senator New.

The two women temporarily accepted as jurors—Mrs. Harriet Wright, of Sierra Madre, and Mrs. S. A. Bradfield, of Long Branch, nearby cities, were the only ones out of eight women questioned who were not excused because of conscientious scruples against infliction of the death penalty.

Mr. Davis made it plain that he expected to make a hard fight against introduction of confessions alleged to have been made by New on the ground that the state must first establish the fact that a murder was committed. He asked prospective jurors questions as to the stand they might take should it appear the dead girl had killed herself.

INSTITUTE PICK-UPS

That the lectures are very interesting was evidenced by the fact that in spite of the cold all except a few teachers remained.

Many college students attend the day sessions, especially in the afternoon.

There was a great increase in the number of town people at institute on Tuesday.

The teachers will know a lot more about singing when the sessions are over, as Dr. Taylor has a "half hour class" every session.

Dr. Pearson's popularity is well established with the teachers and he is given great applause when he appears on the platform.

Everyone looks forward to his talks. Everyone liked "Mike" Dorizas' lecture Tuesday evening. It was both instructive and entertaining.

Big crowds are expected for Wednesday and Thursday nights when the Hawaiians and the Marlborough Players make their appearances.

"Mike" Dorizas has seen quite a bit of the world. He was raised in Constantinople, has traveled all over Europe. He can talk English, Greek, French, Turkish and knows enough about the Russian language to "get by."

LARGEST LETTING

Department Receives Bids on 147 Miles of State Highway.

Bids for the construction of more than 147 miles of roads in Pennsylvania were received Tuesday by the State Highway Department. Fifty-one projects were listed in twenty-eight counties. This is the largest letting in the road building history of the State. Forty-one low bids were received totaling $6,500,000. The previous high mileage record for bids during the Sprout administration was 104 miles.

The bids opened Tuesday were on projects that will make up the early spring operations of the Department and a number of new contractors. No bids were received on nine projects and one construction job was withdrawn. There were no projects bid in this section of the State. None of the contractor firms who have construction work underway in Adams county were low bidders, according to the list of bidders published by the Highway Department.

Farmer Bought Ticket So He Could Get Good View of Last Day

Cleveland, December 17.—Charles Johnson, aged sixty five, a farmer living at West Salem, was in Cleveland today with a reserve seat ticket so as to be in the front row when the world came to an end. After going to a house "where the beginning of the end" was to be made and finding that no one there had even heard the end was at hand Johnson complained to the police in the following words: "Two men came to me last Saturday and sold me a reserve seat for $15. They told me all the members of my religious belief were to wait for the end in Cleveland."

Don't Hold Your FURS!

There Has Already Been a Drop in Skunk

Market conditions are exceedingly uncertain. At the beginning of the season, according to all prospects this was supposed to be the year of highest prices ever known. Now comes a drop in one popular skin and others are "wobbly". Let me repeat, bring your furs in now, while you are sure of good money for the catch. I can still pay for:

No. 1 Skunk $5.00 to $6.00
No. 2 Skunk 3.50 to 4.00
No. 3 Skunk 2.00 to 2.50
No. 4 Skunk 1.00 to 1.50
For Muskrat: $1.00, $1.50, $2.00 and $2.50, according to grade.

Prices for other animals are still good. Take advantage of the present opportunity and get your cash in time for Christmas.

DAIRYING EXPERIENCES

Urges Use of Silo For Permanent Pasture. Professor Sanders Discusses Harmful Wheat Pest.

Although the Adams County Farmers' Institutes are over for the year, agriculturists, who were fortunate enough to be able to attend all of the meetings are discussing many of the more technical points brought out by the speakers. The following contributed article covers in detail many points in farm work that is of particular interest to agriculturists:

Robert E. Atkinson, of Wrightstown, gave a practical talk on "The Farm Tractor and the Horse." In this state, he said, it is not possible for the tractor to entirely replace the horse and unless there is from 75 to 100 acres to be cultivated each year the tractor will not be a profitable investment. From a careful test on a 50 acre plot the following is derived:—A two plow tractor with one man would need about seven days, a man and two horses about 33 days, and a man with four horses and a gang plow 19 days. The keep of one horse one year is $225.00 to $250.00 and he would not work more than 180 days in the year. The tractor will cost—fuel, two gallons kerosene per hour—$35.00 for the fifty acres, two gallons lubricating oil per day—$17.85, labor—$31.50. The 50 acres cost $188.00 with tractor, $321.00—two horses, $276.85—four horses and gang plow, or $1.80 per acre in favor of tractor.

The controlling factor will be whether there is enough work on the farm to justify the purchase of a tractor. We must save at least $100.00 per year for a term of years and to do this it must replace at least one man and several horses. Another consideration is the kind of land. It ought not to be too hilly, too springy, or too stony. The fields should not be cut up by washes and streams. A long field is much to be preferred to a short one with many corners. Length should not be less than a thousand feet. Side hills of more than 30 degrees are a stumbling block for a tractor except in an orchard where discing is the rule.

A convenient size is a 10-20 for two plows which it will pull just about anywhere—giving plenty of reserve power. Three things determine the ease of handling—Gear shift, Type of Gear, and Throttle.

Speeds should be three forward and one reverse. Work on second, have low in reserve, and high for light going on road. Engine requirements—plenty of reserve power—four cylinders give a steady power with less work and a big balance wheel is not needed. The engine ought to last the life of the tractor—at least ten years. The strain on the motor plowing one acre is more than to run an automobile 100 miles therefore everything must be built much heavier and stronger. Must have an efficient carburetor and manifold. Ought to burn kerosene which costs $2.20 a day less than gasoline and delivers about 25 per cent more power as it burns with more heat. Of the cleaning devices to keep dust out of the cylinders the water type is best as it also supplies the moisture needed for kerosene to give good results. Buy from a reliable firm that will stand behind its machine and have a branch agency nearby with all repair parts kept in stock. The crawling device gives more traction, but the wear is excessive all the time. A large wheel gives more traction power than a small one and a great deal of wear can be eliminated by having all gear enclosed and running in oil. The life of a tractor depends upon who runs it. Good care adds to the life of any machine.

The second speaker—J. Aldus Herr, of Lancaster—"Twenty Five Years Practical Experience in Dairying." He said in part: For butter choose Jersey or Guernsey cattle, for milk—Holstein or Ayrshire. Pure bred cattle make butter and the calves are worth having. The cost of mill-feed is prohibitive and the farmer cannot rob his land for a term of years by pasturing everything off it and expect to prosper so there had to be some other way found. A silo furnishes the best and most economical feed that can be grown. By having a permanent pasture which is top-dressed with manure every year and silage to feed the year round the farmer's feed problems are largely solved. Three home made silos can be built for the price of one bought and you can grow from 18 to 20 tons per acre of corn for silage. This corn should be grown just the same as for the ripened ear. Cut it for silage when it is just too hard for roasting ears. Don't rob it of any ears. You can't take out of a silo more than you put into it. In building a silo proportion is most important. One foot in diameter to three feet in height is about right. For three cows it should not be over seven feet in diameter but of considerable height. Silage alone will not do for either cows or steers but the addition of two pounds of cotton seed meal and shredded corn fodder makes a good ration. Cattle should be fed all they will eat and digest the whole year round.

Professor G. J. Sanders, of Harrisburg, discussed "Crop Rotation and Sanitation for Pest Control" also "The Angoumois Wheat Moth."—He said:

Cut worms can be easily controlled. Fall plowing kills off 80 to 90 per cent of cut worms, white grubs, and wire worms. VERY CHIC AND SIMPLE.
This one-piece frock is developed in a combination of smart materials upon very simple lines. The long waist is of self-figured satin, while the skirt is of duvety. Buttons of self-material trim the skirt, which is unstitched along the upper edge at the sides to produce the prevailing widened effect. A narrow belt, vest, collar and cuffs of duvety complete the details. Medium size requires 2¼ yards 36-inch satin and 1¼ yards 54-inch duvety.
Pictorial Review Dress No. 8517. Sizes, 34 to 44 inches bust. Price, 25 cents.

Don't Hold Your FURS!

There Has Already Been a Drop in Skunk

Market conditions are exceedingly uncertain. At the beginning of the season, according to all prospects this was supposed to be the year of highest prices ever known. Now comes a drop in one popular skin and others are "wobbly". Let me repeat, bring your furs in now, while you are sure of good money for the catch. I can still pay for:

- No. 1 Skunk $5.00 to $6.00
- No. 2 Skunk 3.50 to 4.00
- No. 3 Skunk 2.00 to 2.50
- No. 4 Skunk 1.00 to 1.50

For Muskrat: $1.00, $1.50, $2.00 and $2.50, according to grade.

Prices for other animals are still good. Take advantage of the present opportunity and get your cash in time for Christmas.

Why Not Make Some Gifts This Christmas?

SOME philosopher or other said long ago that we do not appreciate that which we do not work hard to obtain and that we love more the people whom we do for than we love the people who do most for us.

If your best friend motors make her a cap, a la sunbonnet, out of some durable silky material that matches her motor coat. Stiffen the visor with buckram, line it with plaid silk and use the rest of this for a banding that ties carelessly in front.

Smoking jackets, suspenders, bath mules, necktie and collar cases for travelers, knitted golf gloves, throat muffs and tooled leather picture frames are some of the gifts you can make for the men in your family.

Nothing "boughten" could compare with the joy furnished a youngster by these toys that daddy made himself. Fine or sweet gum wood are easily manipulated, and the delight enters with the gay enamel paint that daddy so skillfully applies to the elephant's howdah, the parrot's wings and the sailor boy's middy.

Mother may like something new and attractive in the form of luncheon napkins made of one and a half yards of white linen (a good quality comes at 75 cents a yard) cut into six squares and bordered with a picot Irish edge after merely rolling the edges.

Or she may prefer a theater bag made of brocade velvet in any of the new colors and lined with a soft silk in contrasting color. They are made with a pocket in the bottom, either oblong or round, and the top has a casing through which gold ribbon is drawn.

Now that patriotism runs high make hubby a red, white and blue pillow for his Morris chair. The cut suggests the embroidery done on a background of linen crash.

A quickly made gift for a little girl and one which serves to teach her a lesson of neatness is a set of ribbon rolls for her hair ribbons. Small pasteboard cylinders, such as are used for mailing purposes, are first covered with cotton wadding and sachet powder and then with silk or satin. The material may be plain or flowered, but must be of a quality not to "run."

For the friend who boards a glass of homemade jelly or orange marmalade would be useful as well as ornamental. Apple jelly and orange marmalade can be made at the holiday season as well as in the summer, and then one can truthfully say on the little card of greeting that it was made expressly for the friend to whom it is sent.

"There is one queer thing about a vocalist."

"What is that?"

"It hurts her reputation to have a sing-song voice."

NEW ROAD OPENED FOR TRAFFIC

Lincoln Highway Improvement at Fayetteville Nearly Completed.

The seven miles of the Lincoln Highway between Chambersburg and the eastern end of Fayetteville, shut off since last April because of reconstruction into a concrete road, was reopened to the traveling public Monday without ceremony.

Highway Commissioner Lewis S. Sadler made a thorough inspection and expressed satisfaction with the work as completed, confirming the enthusiastic verdict of all who have seen and tried the new road. The bed is 18 feet wide and is of concrete with steel netting re-inforcing and ditches on both sides. Engineers say there is nothing newer or better in roadways and the job as finished shows the very best and latest thing in that line of public improvement. Tourists and those living along the highway have been compelled to make long detours for six months and have done so without much grumbling and now they are highly delighted with the magnificent stretch of highway, better than most city streets.

In the spring the road from Fayetteville eastward toward Gettysburg through Caledonia and Graefenburg over the South Mountain is to be built to the crest of the mountain at least.

How dull it is to pause, to make an end,

To rest unburnished, not to shine in use;

As 'tho' to breathe were life!

WHY SUGAR IS SCARCE

WASHINGTON, D. C.—One reason for the scarcity of sugar may be this triumphal arch to immortalize General Pershing, was made by a Washington baker, exclusively of sugar.

VITAL SUBJECTS AT INSTITUTE

He said in part:

"Every act of our lives has a motive back of it. Fear is not a good motive." Under motives of curiosity, the speaker held, never take an advantage of or embarrass a child. That an interesting story in the morning prevents tardiness. He advised the teachers to have the content of their own conviction.

"Every" pupil ought to recite to every member of his class every lesson. Never prepare for me, but prepare for us. It is a poor school that has nothing left over, something to take home. Study reading lessons at home, and close sessions with a reading from Kipling. Have one pupil read all the lesson to the rest of the class. Social co-operation lends a great aid in school work. Teamwork is the greatest working factor in the world, and interest gives attention.

Dr. C. H. Gordinier, then made his first address before this Institute, using as his subject, "The Spirit of the Times."

"Is the spirit of the times today any different than years ago? Education is passing through a transitional stage. This is a good sign. Life is a transition. The spirit of the times demands that we think in bigger units and teach in bigger units than we ever did before. In order to think in bigger units we must be educated.

"The educated person lives on the hill-top. The duty of the teacher is to lead the child from the valley to the mountain top. Their ability to read and write depends on big, wide

Medical Advertising WOMEN NEED SWAMP-ROOT

Thousands of women have kidney and bladder trouble and never suspect it.

Women's complaints often prove to be nothing else but kidney trouble, or the result of kidney or bladder disease. If the kidneys are not in a healthy condition, they may cause the other organs to become diseased.

Pain in the back, headache, loss of ambition, nervousness, are often times symptoms of kidney trouble.

Don't delay starting treatment. Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, a physician's prescription, obtained at any drug store, may be just the remedy needed to overcome such conditions.

Get a medium or large size bottle immediately from any drug store.

However, if you wish first to test this great preparation send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. When writing be sure and mention the Gettysburg Times.

Wood and Coal Burning HEATERS

Enamel, Nickel and Black stoves of practically every serviceable type.

We have on our floor at present the largest selection we ever showed, and we believe the largest assortment of heaters ever shown in Adams County.

They are priced at figures we know to be right. Many at less than we can buy for today.

Prospective purchasers of stoves are urged to examine them before ordering. In addition to proper prices, we give you advantage of prompt delivery.

DOING THEIR DUTY

(Medical Advertising) Scores of Gettysburg Readers are Learning the Duty of the Kidneys. To filter the blood is the kidneys' duty.

When they fail to do this the kidneys are weak.

Backache and other kidney ills may follow.

Help the kidneys do their work.

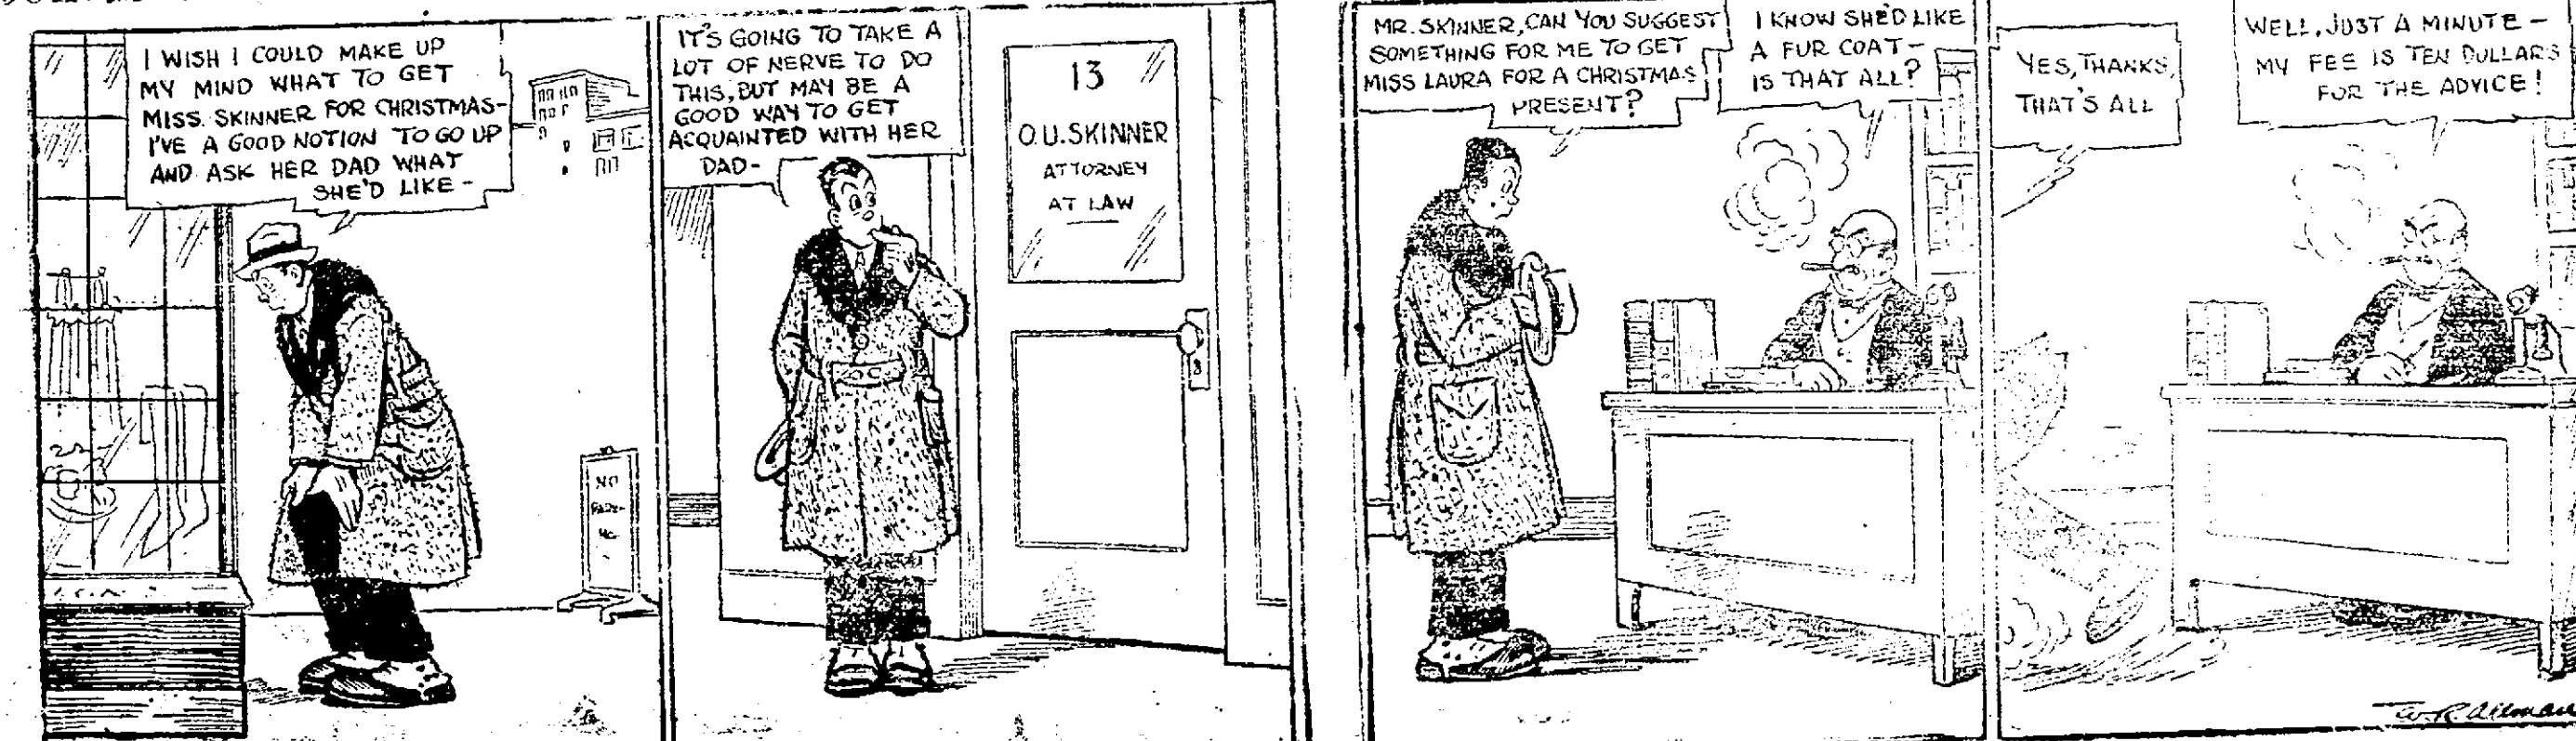

Use Doan's Kidney Pills—the tested kidney remedy.

Gettysburg people endorse their worth.

Mrs. Charles Jacobs, 236 S. Washington St., says: "I had an intense, racking backache and my kidneys were weak. I got Doan's Kidney Pills at the People's Drug Store and they gave me relief at once. Since then, it hasn't been necessary for me to use such a medicine and I believe they have given me permanent benefit."

To the American People

IT is the declared purpose of the United States Government to restore the railroads at an early date to the control of their owners.

The Association of Railway Executives represents those upon whom at that time responsibility will again rest for the prompt and successful movement of the country's commerce.

Those constituting this Association are keenly conscious of their accountability to the public.

They have accordingly determined to present as fully as they can, the fundamental facts and considerations which they themselves must face in their efforts to provide satisfactory railroad service.

It is hoped to engage the interest of the whole American people, whose welfare is so vitally dependent upon adequate transportation.

The country can grow only as the railroads grow. The railroad problem must be solved—and solved rightly and soon—if our country is to prosper.

It is to be noted that propriety—permanently and in the interest of the whole people—that railroad executives will present to the public the situation as they see it.

REVIEWS LOCAL FARM INSTITUTES

some weeds so that control will be very difficult indeed. So many of our crop pests have been brought by importations from abroad. The potato wart disease is another pest from Europe. It started in 1911 and 1912 and so far the only known means of combatting this is to use varieties that are immune—one of these is the Irish Cobbler.

There is no excuse for Cedar Rust when we can save our apple crop by cutting down a few worthless red cedar trees. These rust spheres will carry a distance of several miles. There is not much gained by manuring apple trees. Cultivation and cover crops are much better when added to proper pruning and spraying.

Cabbage seed soaked in a teaspoon of formalin to a pint of water will prevent black leg and other root diseases of cabbage.

Robert E. Atkinson reviewed "The Value of Lime, Legumes, and Livestock as Soil Builders", saying, many farms are starved. Commercial fertilizer supplies acid and phosphorus. Corn, oats, wheat, clover, and timothy make too long a rotation. Cut out timothy and buy no fertilizer. One good crop of clover every four years will give enough nitrogen for the other three crops if they are fed on the place and manure put back. If no livestock is kept the clover must be plowed down and none taken off. The average Pennsylvania soil does not have enough humus or organic matter. It has an unlimited amount of potash if we supply enough organic matter to liberate same. Manure left in the yard six months loses 50 per cent or more of its value. In connection with livestock we must have one or two good legume crops every four years which will not only increase the nitrogen content but also increase production at least 25 per cent. Lime in the soil makes it possible to grow legumes. None of these will grow in a sour soil. If we add to the fertilizer every year our land will increase in value. Inoculation even for red clover pays big. Raising plenty of legumes is the best proposition on the farm.

Mrs. Longsufferer—"You must be more careful with the china. That was a complete 80-piece dinner set when you came." Tilly, the Maid—"But I'm savin' the pieces, ma'am, an' you have a thousand by this time."

God moves in a mysterious way, Blind unbelief is sure to err,
His wonders to perform. And scan his works in vain
He plants His footsteps in the sea, God is His own interpreter
And rides upon the storm. And he will make it plain.
